For me, it is often colour before anything else.

Colour has the power to stir a memory, shift a mood, or transport us to a place we thought we'd forgotten. It is the starting point for much of my work and the thread that runs through every painting in this collection. Working in oil, I build paintings through layered colour, contrast and simplification, creating images that sit somewhere between reality and imagination.

Rather than simply recording what I see, I am interested in capturing a feeling: the warmth of late afternoon light, a beautiful colour combination, or the nostalgia attached to a place or moment in time. I often reduce subjects to their essential shapes, allowing colour, atmosphere and composition to carry the narrative. The result is work that feels both familiar and unexpected, inviting the viewer to bring their own memories and interpretations to the painting.

Thank you for taking the time to explore my work. I hope these paintings bring colour, character and a sense of story into your home.
